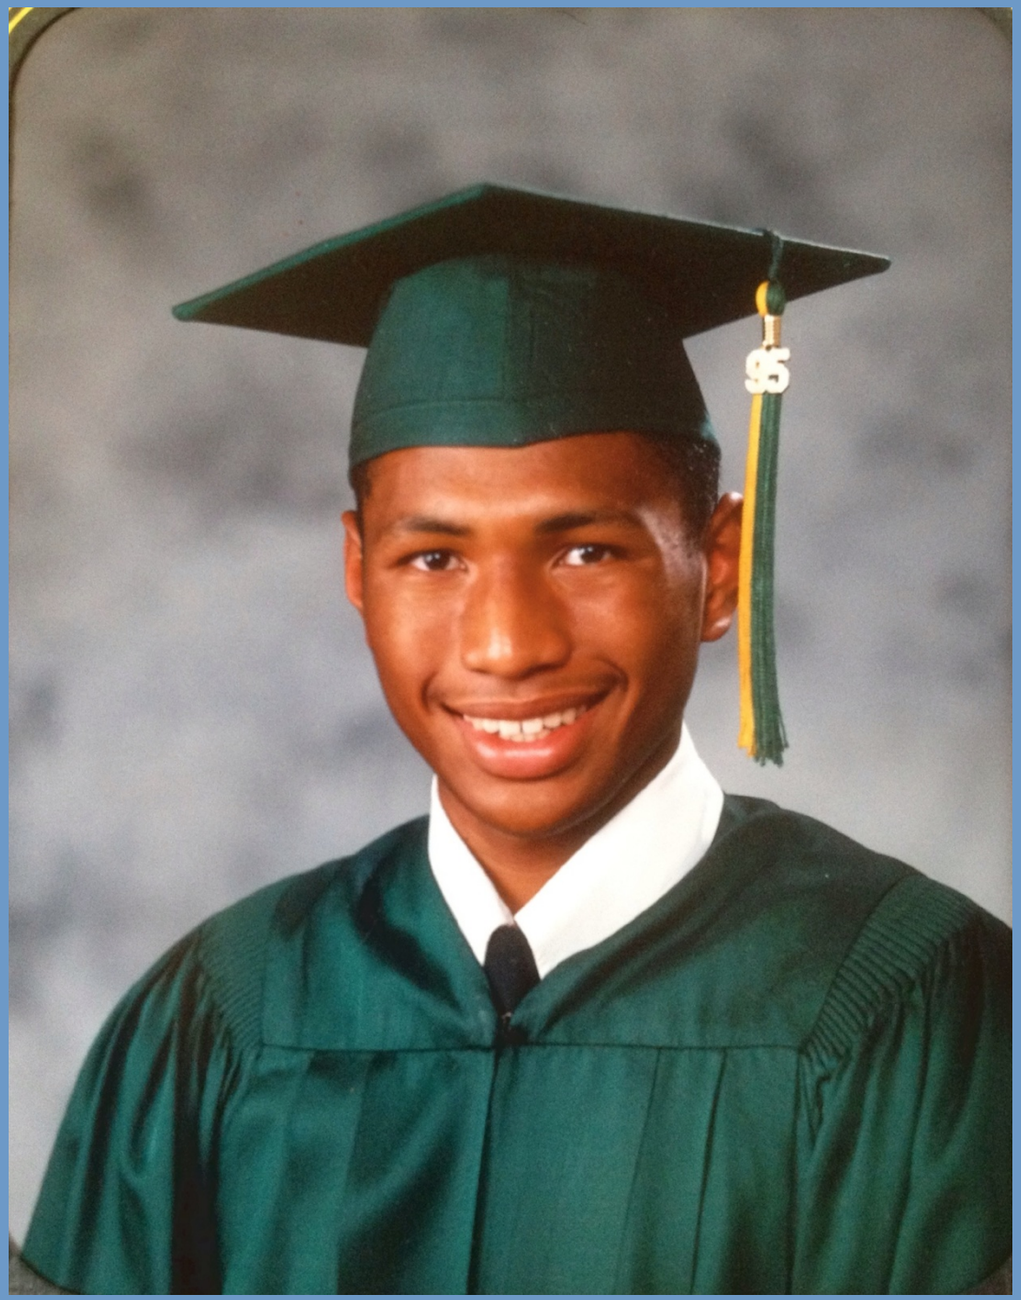
GROWING UP ADEH



Adeh was born
a deep thinker.

He appreciated good food from the get-go.

His mellow personality showed up from the start.

He developed athleticism at a young age.

He was forever curious...

which sometimes got him in trouble!

He started thinking
out of the box
early,

and practiced deconstructing
on a box of tissues.

When frustrated,
he resorted to meditation...

and sometimes to tears.

He became a caring
big brother.

He was the ring bearer
at his uncle's wedding.

He went to school.

He wanted
to grow up
and be a mad scientist.

He graduated from elementary school
as a fairly normal child.

In Junior High School he played soccer.

In Senior High School
he ran track.

He ran fast.
CHABOT
CHABOT

One Halloween, something happened!

His hair started to grow.

It grew
And grew.

It grew wild.

It needed help!

But they let him graduate from high school anyway.

In college,
he finally tamed
his hair.

For that, Stanford University gave him a degree in Computer Sciences.

Since then he has been a fairly normal person...

until now!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, ADEH!

WE LOVE YOU!
